Archway is a close-knit group of teachers, recovery experts, and students working in tandem to create a welcoming campus that not only physically challenges its high-schoolers to remain sober, but stretches their expectations socially, spiritually, intellectually, and academically.

SOMETHING DIFFERENT IS POSSIBLE.

Instead of returning students to the same environments in which they're most at risk for relapse—or where it's nearly impossible to catch back up academically after treatment — Archway provides a structured place for teens to continue both their recovery and their education without compromising either. Our students are hardworking, highly intelligent, and exhibit a remarkable degree of self-awareness and acuity that opens doors to equally remarkable futures.

At the end of the day, our students are the ones who challenge, who champion, and who ultimately change each other. Our job is to ensure the conditions are right.

We promise our students:

TO CREATE a supportive and enthusiastic environment for your recovery and education.

TO WORK collaboratively with your Alternative Peer Group (APG), counselors, family, and any other relevant parties in supporting your emotional, social, mental, physical, academic, and spiritual development.

TO PROVIDE brief counseling interventions if necessary, to address any behavioral, emotional, and/or recovery issues that surface while at school.

TO OFFER opportunities for daily “check-in” and “closing” so you can work through issues that may stand in the way of your educational process each day.

TO PERFORM random and frequent drug tests, reinforcing your accountability and ensuring your compliance with our mission.

TO LISTEN to you and hold you accountable with love.

Archway Academy is a sober high school in the sunny heart of Houston, Texas.

Since 2003, we have offered students and worried families in the throes of teenage substance use a viable option and support system for restoring their child's physical, mental, emotional, and academic health.

A way through.

Where education meets recovery.

A continuum of care.

From probation officers to private counselors, residential treatment clinicians to Alternative Peer Groups, Archway keeps in constant contact with every student's unique personal network—triaging tasks and arming our students (and each other) with shared information to ensure that no important details slip through the cracks; to address behaviors and remove barriers; and to remain consistent and aligned in our approach to getting each student well.

Keeping students sober and in class is our priority.

While our organization plays a dual role, our staff do not. Archway is built around three key partnerships with three specialized yet closely integrated functions:

THE ARCHWAY NONPROFIT: Our recovery staff and support, including coaches and licensed clinicians

SOUTHWEST SCHOOLS: Our certified educational faculty and curriculum

PALMER MEMORIAL EPISCOPAL CHURCH: The downtown/Medical Center space where our campus resides

We challenge our students to do the work we know they're capable of.

Archway isn't just a place for recovery where you might also scoop a few easy credits. Our curriculum is flexible but rigorous, and our faculty have access to incredible charter school district resources. Students go through a normal school day like any other high schooler, with the exception of daily check-in sessions, closer supervision, and easy access to recovery support as needed.

94% of our graduates go on to attend college, heading to schools like Baylor, UT, Ole Miss, and the University of Houston.

We know that every pathway through recovery is unique.

We are only one piece of the puzzle in guiding students through recovery. We cast a safety net deep and wide to connect the continuum of care that supports students across every aspect of their recovery.

Rolling admissions, small class sizes, and low student-teacher ratios allow us to catch our students wherever they are and personalize a program that's best for them. In addition to scholarships, Archway offers need-based financial aid to families who qualify.
